Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0908125A1] The bracket (10) has a tube (11) that is held in a base (14). An L-shaped fixing organ (20) is screwed into a nut in the base by its horizontal part (20a,20b). Its vertical part (20d) is at right angles to its horizontal part and fits over a bar (100d). The first part (20a) of the fixing organ is threaded and its second part (20b) is partly threaded. Its vertical part is square in its cross section. The nut is in a collar round the back of the base. The fixing organ passes through an L-shaped plate (30) that is clamped round the bar.
