Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0911289A1] The method involves moving pockets (4) along a production line (A) and opening the pockets for placing of the part product (6) and/or insert (7) in the main product (5). In a second section (A'') of the production line, following the first section (A'), a main product (5') can be supplied for manufacture of a printed product (2') consisting of part products (6') and/or inserts (7').
