Abstract (en)
[origin: DE19625366C1] The second label part (14) of the adhesive label (12) has a width (a), which corresponds at least to the width (b) of the adhesive medium application (8). The holes (22) in the second part are arranged at least in the vicinity of the intended tear line (16). They have a circular round, oval, rectangular or other geometrical shape. The intended tear line of the label runs in the area of the cut edge (2) of the paper strip commencement (3). It comprises perforation apertures, spaced apart, or slots (17,18), with the spaces between them formed as ribs (19). The outer ribs in the vicinity of each side edge (15) of the label are longer than a central rib.
