Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0913536A1] The mounting comprises a shaped frame which receives a facing. The mounting has a connecting piece for the assembly of two frame sections located in the same plane. This connecting piece is formed from a metal sheet having two perpendicular U-sections the axis of which form an angle between 30 and 90 degrees. The first section forms the base (12) and webs (13,14). The second section is also formed from the base with a web (15) and edges (16,17) of the other webs. The web has a boss (19) enabling the frame sections to be held.
