Abstract (en)
[origin: GB2330069A] A pillow comprises two panels 2,3 which are folded one on top of another to produce a layered pillow. The panels may be permanently or releasably attached to one another and may be quilted. One or more further panels, eg panel 4, may be permanently or releasably attached to increase the thickness of the layered pillow. The pillow is easier to wash and dry than conventional pillows.
