Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0919161A2] The seating surface is attached to a support (2) and has at least one two-part seat surface (3) which is adjustable transversely wrt. the seating position. The parts are pivotably linked and the rear part (3b) can be pivoted upwards and downwards with respect to the front part (3a) and has a cut-out. The individual seat surface parts can be replaced by means of a removable connecting element
