Abstract (en)
[origin: WO9801044A1] Gloves produced from pieces of leather, textile, polymer materials or combinations thereof in such a way that one or more of the fingers of the glove have seams or joints only on the sides of the fingertip and on the dorsal or volar side of the finger but lack seams on those surfaces which correspond to the volar and distal surfaces of the outer phalanges. The volar parts of the glove fingers can, for instance, be cut so long that the seam between the volar and dorsal parts of the gloval fingers is located on the dorsal sides of the fingers.
