Abstract (en)
[origin: WO9806294A1] The present invention concerns a gem holder (1) comprising a seat for form-closed setting of the gem and two flanges connected at both ends to form an eye-shaped recess (3) for holding the gem (3). In order to manufacture the jewel more easily, it is suggested that the gem resting in the two opposing recess halves (4) of the one single-piece flanges (2) be clamped in the eye-shaped recess through elastic flange pretensioning.
