Abstract (en)
[origin: WO9903359A1] The invention relates to totally vegetable meat substitutes containing soya proteins, wheat gluten and other ingredients. The invention also relates to a process for the production of said products comprising the following steps: preparing a gel by mixing soya protein concentrate and/or isolated soya protein with wheat gluten and water; partially hydrating texturized soya protein and/or texturized soya protein concentrate; cooking the dough obtained by mixing the gel with the partially hydrated soya protein and with the other ingredients. Alternatively, it is possible to simply cook the dough made by directly mixing the soya proteins, the water, the wheat gluten and the other ingredients.
