Abstract (en)

[origin: WO9810998A1] There is provided a paperboard carton having side walls (11), end walls (12) and base panels (14, 15) for holding a number of bottles (25). The carton may be in the form of a basket type carton having a central handle section (13). One of the base panels (15) has an end portion (23) foldably attached to a remainder portion (24) with two spaced elongate slots spanning the fold. The other base panel (14) has two push up flaps which, when the base panels (14, 15) are assembled, extend into the slots. The push up flaps (19) and the end portion (23), in use, engage, between adjacent pairs of bottles to reduce bottle contact.
