Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0930139A2] The frame is placed horizontally on the ground, transporter or shelf (2) for stacking the long pieces of (26) wood in preset cutup lengths (30-32). The uprights (6-8) hold the timber in the frame. The frame base has parallel outer flat-iron supports which are used for the next-above stack (27,28,29) of logs. The bottom frame part may have runners.
