Abstract (en)
[origin: WO9818630A1] The invention concerns an ink duct (1) disposed in a working position (A) on an ink-metering roller (4) for a rotary printing press. According to the invention, the ink duct can be cleaned easily since it is disposed so as to be pivoted into a second, that is emptying, position (B), in which the printing ink is collected in a very low channel (44).
