Abstract (en)
[origin: WO9907529A1] The invention pertains to a knife holder (1) for a wrapper cutter (2) intended for separating material strips lengthwise. The knife guide according to the invention comprises a base body (3) which can be secured to a knife holder bar and on which a knife head is provided which can move back and forth on a crosshead from a position of rest (R) to a cutting position (P). The knife holder also comprises a protection hood (9) which covers the wrapper cutter (2) on at least part of its circumference and is mounted moveable relative to said wrapper cutter (2), so that the cutting edge (8) is bare when in a cutting position (P) and covered, at least laterally, by the protection hood (9) when in a position of rest (R).
