Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0936586A2] The base and support of the entire data station is a distortion-proof support plate (10) of 5 mm strong refined steel. A section in the plate has a glass plate (12) embedded flush in the plate. The square housing (14) is located behind the plate. The plate juts over the edge of the housing by at least half the depth of the housing on all sides. Behind the glass plate is a display unit.
