Abstract (en)

[origin: WO9820580A1] Disclosed is a single-piece fitting (3) manufactured in the form of a press-bent part, presenting a contact leg (9) and another leg provided for receiving a tension spring (4), from which tongues are punched and bent. The tongues (10, 11) are used for protecting the tension spring (4) positionned by pressure when using a non standard conductor connecting piece, and for blocking the connecting piece (3) when inserting same into the housing.
