Abstract (en)

A frame particularly for skates includes a pair of wings (10a,10b), each of which has an elliptical shape so as to form an upper elastic portion (11) and a lower elastic portion (12) between which two or more mutually in-line wheels (13) are rotatably associated. The frame (5) includes a lateral stiffening and guiding element (15) which is slidingly interposed between the upper and lower elastic portions (11,12) and allows to achieve optimum control of the skate. <IMAGE>
