Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0937848A2] The driving rods are displaced by an operating handle against spring loading in an opening direction and are synchronously driven in contrary directions. A spring force accumulator (17) is positioned between the driving rods and is held by a blocking element in the form of a two-armed lever. The driving rods are guided in a C-shaped groove open on the outside, in the door frame. Drive pieces (15,16) for the driving rods lead through longitudinal slots in the door frame.
