Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0939049A2] The device incorporates a sheet stop moving between a stop position and a position permitting extraction of a test sheet. The sheet stop (3) can be moved into a second stop position (II) away from the sheet stack (1). Sheet transport is adjustable, so that the test sheet (9) is moved with its front edge to the sheet stop away from the stack. The stop is moved from the second stop position into extraction position (III). The stop has two stop faces at an angle to each other, with the first stop face for the first stop position (I), and the second face for the second stop position.
