Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0941906A2] A wheel (1) is guided on both sides by two guide components and where it is of at least one rigid wheel set has a smaller nominal diameter than the other wheel (2). The other wheel is guided by a component (8) on the track inside. The running surface of the other wheel with larger nominal diameter is conical in the inner part (9) and is cylindrical in the outer part (10).
