Abstract (en)

[origin: DE19808041A1] The method involves cutting a web (1) a region prior to the transfer region (6) between the reel (3) and roll core (8) used to form a new reel, and the cut is then covered with adhesive tape to allow the web to be transported so that the cut is in the transfer region. Increasing web tension breaks the adhesive tape in this transfer region. An Independent claim is also included for the reel arrangement.
