Abstract (en)

[origin: WO9827465A1] The invention relates to an electrographic printing device, in which it is possible to simultaneously print on a paper band (16) in two transfer printing areas (12, 14). A photoconductive band (10) is divided into two peripheral sections (22, 24), each of which is allocated to a device (26, 28) that produces a toner image.
