Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1547803A1] To place a printed insert within a preliminary folded section (11) to form a folded printed main body (8), the first section (11) is placed in the inserting assembly while folded together, or it is closed up after positioning. The next section (14,15) is placed next to the first section (11), which is then opened. At least one further printed section (18) is inserted into the first section (11).
