Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0957227A1] A resilient part (12) extending parallel to the glass panes (26) is located in a plane below the glazing surface, underneath the holder profile (22) joining two adjacent panes together, in order to place the profile under tension and hold it firmly against the pane edges (24). The resilient part comprises a plate, piece made from wire, or a dish-shaped profile.
