Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0959318A2] A security lock for the safe storage of rifles or hand guns has an upper fitting with a pin (1) on a pivot mounting to locate into the muzzle of the weapon. A lower bracket is hinged on fitting and grips around the hand grip, or around the stock, of the weapon. The lower catch is secured by a key operated security lock (12). The user pushes the muzzle onto the pin and swings the weapon onto the lower fitting. The catch is secured over the hand grip and snaps shut. The upper mounting has a limited lateral slide adjustment to align the weapon in the fitting.
