Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0960591A2] The support foot has a vertically movable foot element resting on the ground and fixable on a support element (1) which has at least two bolt sockets (18) to hold bolts fitted on the underneath of the shower tray. The bolt sockets are movable relative to each other so that the bolts can be fixed on same. The support element has two arms which can be swiveled relative to each other and tensioned against each other, with each arm having at least one bolt socket.
