Abstract (en)

The support consists of an injection-molded metal or plastic foot (5) shaped to fit against the inner edge of a door or window frame (3) and having a projecting portion (8) with a socket (13) to receive a spring loaded end of a curtain rod (2). Preferred Features: In variants of the design, the socket can have a projecting tip in its base or can be replaced by a solid cylindrical projection fitting inside a hollow curtain rod.
