Abstract (en)
[origin: WO9835592A1] The invention relates to a piece of toy furniture with a table top which is fastened at two opposite edges to respective support elements wherein the fastening is a pin (3) having a vertical axis. The support elements are pivoted in relation to the table top, around the pin axis (3). The base surfaces of the support elements support the table top (2) in stable manner at any angle, and the edges of the support elements protrude over the table top (2).
