Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0965699A1] A clamp device is provided comprising a clamp component for fixing the housing to the support bar (4) by means of a clamp connection and under the influence of spring force (18). For release of the clamp connection, an operating component (20) is provided. The clamp component is a clamp ring (17) flexible in a radial direction and intended for accommodation of the support bar (4). At least one tension ring (19a, 19b) engages externally on the clamp ring.
