Abstract (en)
[origin: FR2752820A1] The invention concerns a dispensing cap (3) for equipping a reservoir (21) containing a fluid product, comprising a body (32) provided with a dispensing aperture (4) and a pivoting lid (5), hinged with the body about an axis (A), the body (32) and the lid (5) being made of a rigid or semirigid material, this lid being provided with a picot edge (6), for closing the dispensing aperture (4) in storing position. A coating (72) of elastomeric material is arranged on the external wall of the picot edge, for ensuring, when the lid is closed, a tightness between the picot edge and the aperture (4).
