Abstract (en)

[origin: WO9848761A1] The invention relates to a piece of furniture (1) with a built-in massage unit (2), comprising at least one massage head (4) with at least one massage body (5). Said massage head (4) can be moved by means of a driving motor (3) and at least one regulating element. Said regulating element has a toothed belt (6) with at least one pinion (7) which engages in the toothed belt and is operated by the driving motor (3). As a result, the inventive furniture is easier to produce and has a longer service life.
