Abstract (en)
[origin: WO9848383A2] The invention relates to a device (1) for dispensing objects (rolls of coins (3)), especially money, comprising at least one magazine (2) for stocking up the objects (3) and at least one dispensing device (1') for dispensing objects (3) from the at least one magazine (2). A receiving device (6') is provided inside the dispensing device (1'), said receiving device being open on top or at the side and being able to travel up and down. An object (3) can be dispensed from the magazine (2) into said receiving device (6'). A lockable removal opening (23') is also provided in the housing above or to the side of the receiving device (6') in an end position of said receiving device (6'). This removal opening (23') is locked preferably by a slideable bolt (22'). The inventive device simplifies dispensing the objects to a user and in particular, improves the presentation of the objects which are to be dispensed.
