Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0978598A2] The system to install a water cistern (2), on to profiled mounting rails, has a holder (36) at each mounting point (14). On inserting the cistern (2) between the rails, the holders expand without affecting the insertion movements of the cistern (2) along the rails. The holders (36) engage in longitudinal grooves, cut back into the profiled rails, or the edge of a mounting plate, with a claw grip which is locked in place by tightening a screw.
