Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0982533A2] The decoration light includes a carrier, an artificial flower, a flexible reed shaft which connects the carrier with the artificial flower, and a flexible support rod which is pulled through the flexible reed shaft and connects the artificial flower with the carrier. The flexible support rod consists of a flexible wire and an insulating layer on it. A lamp is inserted in the artificial flower, and an electric supply is drawn through the flexible reed shaft and is connected to the lamp, to supply it with electric current.
