Abstract (en)
In order to provide a package with an inclined support wall, which is manufactured from a single blank and to reduce waste material in its manufacture, a package and a package blank therefor are provided. The package comprises a bottom wall providing a base for the package during shipping and display, a plurality of side walls (113,114,118) at least one of which (113,114) is a single-layered support side wall, at least part of the support side wall forming an obtuse angle with the bottom wall so as to support the contents of the box during shipping and display, a top (116) which encloses a package space together with the bottom walls and the plurality of side walls, and the necessary flaps and tabs so as to permit, by folding and attaching, formation of the package from the blank, at least part of at least one further side wall opposite the support side wall or additionally of the top being removable to provide, by removal, access to the package space. <IMAGE>
