Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0989774A2] An audio system (1) has a plurality of sound sources, each producing an audio signal. There is provided a plurality of timer means for operating one of the sound sources to produce a first audio signal for a predetermined period before a start time instructed by a user, and for operating another sound source to produce a second audio signal at the start time. A plurality of mixing circuits (5) are provided for mixing the first and second audio signals from two sound sources. <IMAGE>
