Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0990857A2] The upper cover (12) has an installation section (53), and the radiator (11a,11b) has a fastening section (60) which is brought into engagement with the radiator. A connecting section (58) connects the installation section to the fastening section. The fastening section has a side shoulder section by which the fastening section grips the parallel extending edges of slots in the cover.
