Abstract (en)

Adjustment apparatus for a maritime escape suit comprising an adjustment strap (8,30), and two respective anchor points (14,16,32A) for fixing to an escape suit, the strap (8,30) being securable to the anchor points (14,16,32A) and being arranged to constrain the anchor points (14,16,32A) to define a predetermined maximum distance between them, the maximum distance being variable whereby a reduction in the maximum distance causes an effective reduction in the size of an escape suit to which the anchor points (14,16,32A) are fixed. <IMAGE>
