Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0992439A1] The flexible-walled container (1,21) consists of an outer container (2,22) with a number of flexible sidewalls (4-27). The outer container holds two or more inner containers (15-29) alongside each other. The containers are fabricated from the same material as the outer container. Two facing outer walls (4,6) are linked by a cross-member (12) which separates two otherwise adjacent inner containers.
