Abstract (en)
[origin: FR2775206A1] The method consists of shaping the container body (3) and base (2), applying paint or varnish to at least its inner surface, shaping its open end to form a neck (4) and fitting a ring (5) with an inner bore and external thread over the neck before swelling the neck to fit it so that the external diameter of the neck is greater than the internal diameter of the ring at rest.
