Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0994227A1] A security design for a door/window has the control arm (4) which allows partial opening always covering at least one of the screws (1) which secures the fitting to the frame. The control arm has a tilt and slide action. The screw secures a section of the bracket under the main bracket and the control arm has a pivot/slide mounting between this bracket section and the main bracket, for a fully enclosed fitting.
