Abstract (en)

The bag this Patent refers to, consists of a totally transparent external film and contains sections with overlaid internal opaque laminar sections, forming internal pockets used to carry graphic publicity panels. Both the internal pockets and the opening of the bag are equipped with zips the cursor of which includes a theft-proof lock. At least one section of the side wall of the bag is totally transparent thus providing a view of the objects it contains, even when the bag is closed. The design foresees the inclusion of a smaller pocket on the outside. <IMAGE>
