Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0997590A2] The system consists of vertical and horizontal metal battens. It has holders (1) and mainly U-shaped guide parts (3) with bases (3a) fastened to the holders. The legs (3b, c) of the guide part project mainly vertically from its base. The distance between the legs corresponds mainly to the outer cross section of a horizontal fitting batten. Each guide part leg has an aperture (6a, b) for fasteners. The face of the holder away from the legs is fastened to a spring or spring batten.
