Abstract (en)
[origin: FR2765778A1] The invention concerns a footwear part (1) comprising a structural part (2) formed by a rigid sole (10), a wrapping edge (11) integral with the sole (10) front part, and a sleeve (12) integral with said sole (10) rear part, shaped to cover the user's ankle and the lower part of his leg. Said sleeve (12) is separated from the edge (11) and has walls offset towards the sole (10) inside part relative to the edge (11) wall, such that there is, on either side of said structural part (2), two slots (20) substantially oriented in a longitudinal direction wherein a rod (3) made of flexible or semiflexible material can be engaged.
