Abstract (en)
[origin: WO9911154A1] A button combination comprising a base part to be attached to an article of clothing and a main part to be detachably connected to said base part (1). The main part (8) is provided with two disc-shaped portions (9, 9) extending parallel to each other, which disc-shaped portions are interconnected near their circumference (10) over part thereof. A recess (11) is provided in one of said disc-shaped portions, which recess is open at an edge of the disc-shaped portion in question. The base part (1) comprises two parallel disc-shaped portions (2, 3), which are interconnected by a connecting piece (5), all this in such a manner that in order to interconnect the base part and the main part, the connecting piece (5) of the base part is inserted into the recess in the main part with a clamped fit.
