Abstract (en)

[origin: DE19642110A1] The invention concerns a method of labelling flat items of post (1), labels (9) being applied to these items in the labelling region of a transport section (2) by a cutting and application station (3). To that end, the items of post are guided in a frictionally engaged manner in the labelling region such that the labelling zones on these items of post remain free and the items of post are positioned by suction air with respect to a sliding track.
