Abstract (en)
[origin: WO9857870A1] The invention concerns a dispenser consisting of a housing (1) comprising a slot (13A), for delivering a flat object (41), a cover (2) sliding on said housing open top surface and spring means (3) pressing a stack (4) of flat objects against the cover. When the cover (2) slides it drives the object arranged at the top of the stack (4) so as to dispense it through the outlet slot (13A) arranged on the housing front face (13). The housing is provided with a support tab (11) thereby enabling the housing to be easily loaded and preventing a premature delivery of an object through the housing rear. The spring means (3) comprise a supporting plate (30) preventing the stack of objects (4) from being warped. The dispenser is designed in such a way that the flat objects are not bent during storage or delivery.
