Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1020607A2] The fitment (4) for a preferably frame-free glass element (1) has a fastening (3) joining the glass element to another component such as another glass element, floor or wall. The glass element has at least one glass pane (6) coated with an elastic sheet (7) or at least two glass panes joined together with an interposed elastic sheet. The fastening grips surfaces (8,9) on the glass element and free from elastic sheeting.
