Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1020682A1] The light diodes (4) radiate coloured light. At least one limiting wall (1) of opaque material limits the light, in the surface (2) of which visible from the outside are a number of spaced apart apertures (3,8), some of which accommodate the incandescent or discharge lamps (4) and some the light diodes (9), which are supplied from the rear side of the limiting wall (1) with current.
