Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1023996A2] The rubbercloth shell washing system is outside the printing press. It includes a shell washing device (20) with side frames, brushes and a washing solution application element, to clean rubbercloth shells (2) from the press. The rubbercloth shells cleaned in the shell washing device are taken out and laid in a storage rack (1), after which they can be put back into the press.
