Abstract (en)
[origin: DE19839765A1] The invention relates to a two-wheeler handle bar (1), especially to a motorcycle handle bar, comprising handgrips (6) which are secured on the steering bar (3). The invention provides that the handgrips (6), according to the needs of the driver, can be positioned nearer to or further from the driver and can be secured in the desired position. To this end, the handgrips (6) are adjustably mounted on the steering bar (3) with the aid of a locking slide (10) with a slide guide (11) so that they can be guided in a direction toward the driver.
